4. Your Voice Matters!
5. Discussion & Next Steps

What is Campus Vision 2050?

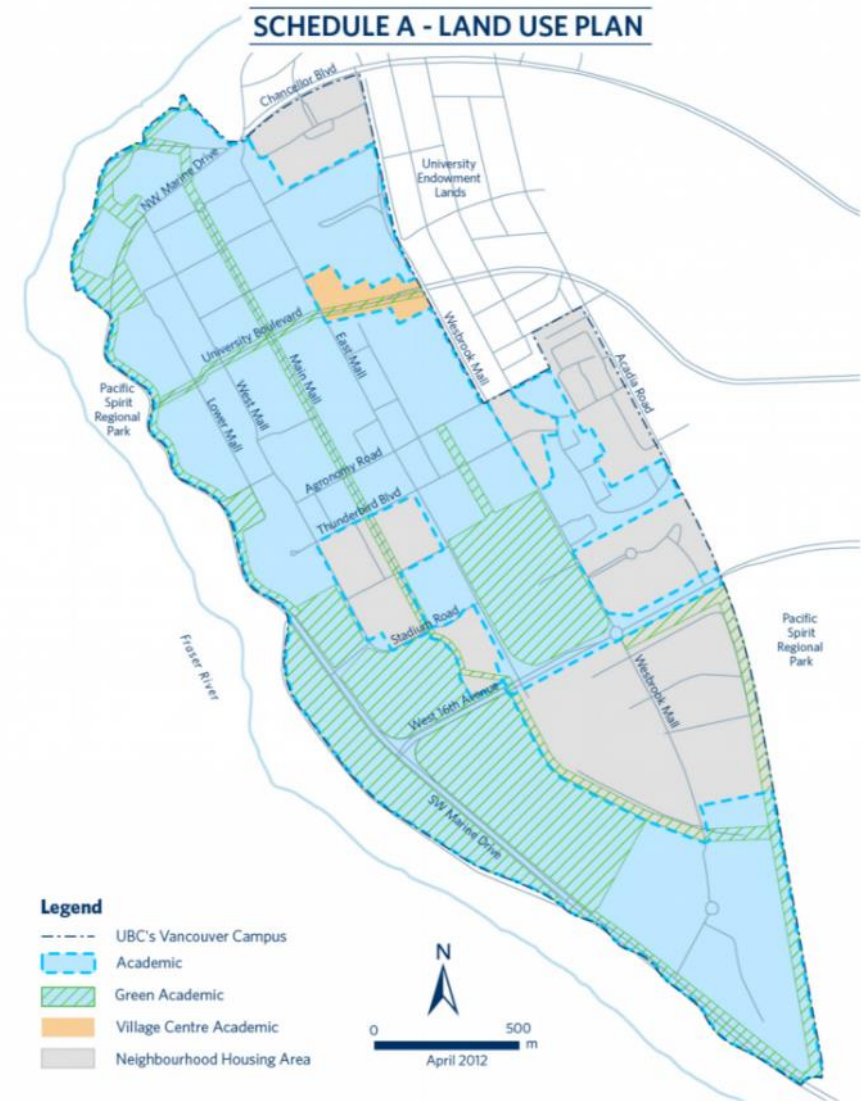

- A comprehensive land use planning and public engagement process that will shape how the Vancouver campus changes and grows over the next 30 years.
- Outputs:
 - 30-Year Vision
 - Land Use Plan
 - 10-Year Campus Plan

UBC's current Land Use Plan (2011) and Vancouver Campus Plan (2010)

What will Campus Vision 2050 include?

- Spatial layout
- Areas of growth and areas of no growth
- Ecology and sustainability
- Development and density ranges
- Services, amenities and open space
- Coordinating with broader regional planning

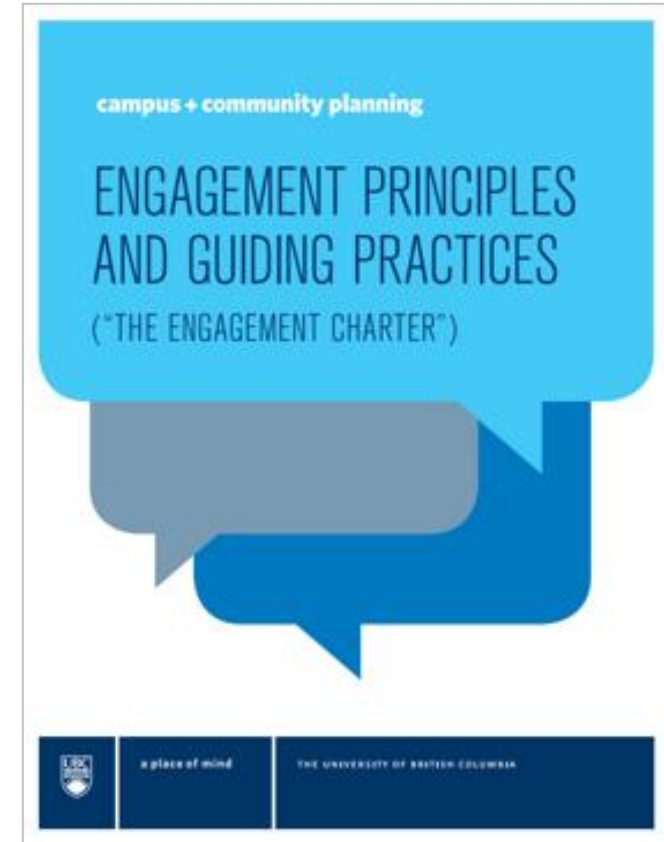

Why a campus vision?

- The last campus plan shaped major features of campus today
- The past decade saw a lot of change, the campus grew more quickly than expected
- Regional pressures related to mobility, affordability and connectivity
- Climate change, reconciliation and the changing nature of work and study
- Continued support of UBCs Land Endowment

Engagement approach

- Builds upon existing Engagement Charter to center EDI
- Responsive to multiple interests of the UBC community and Musqueam
- Variety of formats, tools and opportunities to hear from as many voices as possible
- Ongoing engagement with the province who governs UBC's Land Use Plan

Purpose of this Engagement

We are gathering input in two ways:

1. We are seeking insights into your experience of the campus
2. We want your feedback on a set of needs and aspirations themes that emerged from the pre-planning process

This engagement period runs from Jan. 20, 2022 until Feb. 17, 2022.

Mapping Our Campus

9 days

Click "+" on the left to drag and drop a pin on the UBC Vancouver campus map. Your pins and comments will be public for others to see.

We want to know where your favourite spaces on campus are and why, and what areas on campus may need improvements.

Zoom in on parts of the map by scrolling up and zoom out by scrolling down.
